Synod 2021-2023

The 2021-2023 Synod on Synodality has begun with the consultation process in the Archdiocese of Regina. It was kicked off with a Mass on Sunday, October 17th, that you can view at: <https://youtu.be/vh1fCqzqy34>. Many parish leaders took part in one of two formation sessions last week to learn how a parish and individuals can engage in the Synod process, if you missed the sessions, the workshop videos can be viewed at our YouTube page. Please connect with your parish priest or staff to see how you can be a part of this history-forming Synod. You can also find information on our website at <https://archregina.sk.ca/synod-2021-2023>. More information will be provided in the coming weeks.

Truth and Reconciliation Weekly Bulletin Feature

Fr. John Weckend, Associate Pastor, St. Cecilia, Regina

Several years ago I was attending a lecture in which the speaker began by asking the audience: 'How many of you are Treaty People?' Thinking this was meant only for any Indigenous people who may have been present, I did not put up my hand. The speaker then reminded us that we were ALL Treaty people. Treaties, like all agreements and covenants, always involve TWO parties. My ignorance in this case was perhaps indicative of that of many non-Indigenous folks. However, it gave me the idea that it might be helpful to provide 'bite-size' pieces of information to assist in understanding and aiding in building a better relationship between the Indigenous and non-Indigenous people of our land. This initiative will be in the form of a short weekly feature entitled: 'Itwewin Corner'. Itwewin is the Cree word which means 'the word' or 'as it is said...'. It is my hope that this will be a small way of contributing information and education envisioned by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada. The following is a sample of what is to come.

Itwewin Corner

Did you know that...some 10,000 Indigenous men and women enlisted to fight for Canada in the two World Wars [and the Korean War]. Because they were considered 'wards of the state' and not citizens, they did not receive the benefits of other returning veterans like land, loans, and education.

The Archdiocese of Regina is located on Treaty 4 Territory, the traditional lands of the Nêhiyawak, Nahkawé, and Nakota, and homeland of the Dakota, Lakota, and Métis peoples.

Walking in Solidarity with Indigenous Peoples in Truth and Reconciliation

An education committee of the CCCB is in the process of putting a resource package together in the area of truth and reconciliation, especially in preparation for the Indigenous delegation going to Rome on December 17 to the 20th. The Church in Canada is inviting all parishes to walk in solidarity with this important step in healing and reconciliation between Indigenous peoples and our Church. We will embark on this journey following the movement of the advent liturgical cycle, beginning with the feast of Christ the King. More information will be coming.

Archbishop's Appeal

Today as we draw close to the end of our liturgical year, we are reminded of the inevitability of the final judgment. It is easy in our daily lives to find ourselves distressing over the future, over the reality of suffering both personally and globally which can foster an internal struggle to find hope in the midst of uncertainty. However, we are also reminded today of God's sovereignty and that it is for God alone to know and determine when the end of time shall come for about that day or hour, no one knows, neither the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. We can place our trust completely in the hands of our loving God, knowing that He continues to work out his plan in and through our lives. For by a single offering He has made perfect forever those who are sanctified and through His sacrifice He makes His intercession on our behalf constant and eternal.

As we celebrate the blessed sacrament we are reminded that we walk together as a community in Christ. Through our contributions to the Archbishop's Appeal we provide support to our pastoral services, healthcare ministries, adult and youth formation programs, Indigenous relationships, and social justice work in the community we are called to serve as the faithful of our diocese so that we may continue to be the fig tree which produces fruit in plenty.

Stewardship Bulletin Bit

"And then they will see 'the Son of Man coming in the clouds' with great power and glory." (Mark 13:26)

We will all have that day when we are standing before God and our life is played out like a movie. When this happens and God asks each of us, "What have you done with the gifts that I have given you?" How will you respond? The good news – it's never too late to live and grateful and generous lifestyle.

Vaccine Mandates and Exemptions with Melissa Moschella - Part 3

We wrap up our three-part conversation with Dr. Brett Salkeld and Dr. Melissa Moschella, moral philosopher at the Catholic University of America, discussing vaccine mandates and exemptions from a Catholic perspective.

Show Snippet: "If my conscience is telling me that somebody else needs to pay a price, that might actually even be a good indication that I need to think again about forming my conscience."
